Dear Westmount Place Condominium Owner:

Re: New Insurance Certificate

On the reverse, please find a new insurance certificate which covers your Condominium for the period November 20, 2014 to October 31, 2015.

The condominium insures the units, not including improvements and betterments made to the units by the owners. You require your own insurance for improvements. The deductible for water leaks and sewer backups is $50,000.00. Your attention is drawn to this because depending on the cause of an insurance claim, the responsibility for the deductible could rest with you, the Unit Owner.

It is suggested that you speak to your agent for your homeowner's insurance to find out if you are covered for any of the Condominium's deductible should there be a claim where you are found responsible. This type of coverage (called a buy-down rider) is available from some issuers and could reduce your exposure.

Example:
Supposing the Board of Directors has determined that a deductible on a water claim is the Unit Owner's responsibility and the total claim is say, $65,000.00 and the Condominium Corporation's deductible is $50,000.00.

Now assuming that the Owner's personal policy has a deductible of $1000.00 with a buy-down rider in place, the Unit Owner would be responsible for the first $1000.00 of the deductible, his insurance company would pay the next $49,000.00 on behalf of the unit owner, and the Corporation's insurance company would pay the balance of $15,000.00 on this claim.
